ALL SORTS.

—Jack Todman, of the True Fishure, is in town.

—WANTED—A girl to do general housework. Apply at this office.

—Mrs. Jennie Banning, (colored) wants a situation in a private family. Apply at this office.

—Thaxter made 92 at the 200 yard range on Sunday, and 47 at the 500. This is the largest score on record.

—There will be a meeting of the ladies of the Presbyterian Church at Mrs. Swift's house this evening at 7 o'clock.

—Why families should buy none but Cohn's butter:
It is made by white labor.
You can always get it fresh.
It is full weight.
Each roll stamped. COHN.
Ask your grocer for it and take no other.

—For constitutional catarrh, and for consumption induced by the scrofulous taint, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the true remedy. It has cured numberless cases. It will stop the nauseous catarrhal discharges, and remove the sickening odor of the breath, which are indications of scrofulous origin.

—The meed of merit for promoting personal aesthetics is due to J. C. Ayer & Co., whose incomparable Hair Vigor is a universal beautifier of the hair. Harmless, effective, agreeable, it has taken rank among the indispensable articles of the toilet. To scanty locks it gives luxuriance, and withered hair it clothes with the hue of youth.

—Imitations have been foisted upon the market so closely resembling Allecock's Porous Plasters in general appearance as to be well calculated to deceive. It is, however, in general appearance only that they compare with Allecock's for they are worse than worthless inasmuch as they contain deleterious ingredients which are apt to cause serious injury. Remember that Allecock's are the only genuine porous plasters—the best external remedy ever known, and when purchasing plasters do not only ask for but see that you get "Allecock's Porous Plasters." The popularity which these plasters have attained during the past thirty years has no parallel, so it is no wonder that imitations and counterfeits abound.

Mangled by a Meat Hook.

On Sunday evening Warren Noteware was passing Schulz's meat market, when a large dog sprang out upon him. Mr. Noteware sprang to the cross bar in front of the market expecting to rise above the dog, when his left arm caught on a meat hook and he hung there some time before he was rescued. The hook passed through his arm above the elbow. The wound is considered as quite dangerous.

The Fourth of July.

All members of the Fourth of July Committee are requested to be present at the office of the Secretary of State this evening, at the usual hour, for the transaction of business. As the time for the celebration draws near, it is hoped that a full attendance will be present.
JOHN H. KINKEAD,
Chairman.

The Senator's House Warming.

Senator Stewart and wife gave a regular old-fashioned housewarming at their new residence last Saturday. There was feasting, music and a good time generally, and the guests were all made to feel very comfortable and at home. All who had paid their respects to the ex-Senator and wife since the new house was built were invited.

Marriage Announcement.

The APPEAL acknowledges the receipt of wedding cards announcing the marriage of Miss Nellie Parkinson, of this city, to H. B. McAvoy, of San Francisco. The marriage will take place at 4 P. M., next Thursday at the Catholic Church here, the ceremony will be performed by Father McSweeney, of Oakland.

"Leaf by Leaf."

Yesterday the Chinese wash-house opposite the St. Charles closed its doors forever. No red shirts flopped in the idle wind yesterday, and the scents of no more pro-Chinese socks will fill the air in that neighborhood. "Leaf by leaf the roses fall."

THE SUTHERLAND CASE.

THE DEFENDANT ANSWERS TO THE ELLIS-DORAN COMPLAINT.

An Uncompleted Contract Set Forth by Defendant.

Last week the APPEAL published a full account of the arrest of Col. Sutherland of Candelaria, and the allegations in the Ellis-Doran complaint. In justice to all parties it gives the other side of the story as set forth in the answer of defendant, and the affidavits now filed in the United States Court.

THE OLD AND NEW COMPANY.

There were two companies interested in the Candelaria water works. The old company issued bonds to carry on the business and they went out of existence. A new company then came in, and Sutherland, Doran and Ellis were interested. Sutherland went to London and organized the new company and caused a new mortgage to be put upon the property for fifty thousand pounds, equivalent to $241,000. This sum was set apart to build a mill, pay off the mortgage and float the new scheme in London. Some of the bonds of the old company were redeemed and some are now outstanding.

THE BOND LITIGATION.

The first litigation began in Esmeralda county. The new company had to meet the mortgage bonds and redeem them, but as it had received no benefit from them it decided to fight them in the Courts. The case was decided by Judge Murphy to the effect that the bonds were null and void, as the law had not been complied with when they were issued, and that the bonds were usurious.

The bondholders propose to appeal the case to the Supreme Court. Two decisions have been made in New York that such bonds are sound.

THE CONTRACT.

The contract upon which Ellis and Doran sue is for 28,333 shares of stock apiece, and a division of the residue in money which may be on hand after the works have been finished and the bonds redeemed or the litigation settled for. The hope of having a surplus to divide was based upon the expectation of beating the mortgage bond case to produce the mortgage executed by the old company. Ellis and Doran helped make this fight in the Esmeralda Court and it is still in litigation, the New York parties pressing the suit.

SUTHERLAND'S ANSWER.

In his sworn answer by W. M. Stewart, his attorney, Sutherland states that he has paid to the defendants as per agreement 56,666 shares of stock. That the surplus money to be divided between the two plaintiffs and defendant cannot now be segregated for the fact that it is wholly an unknown quantity, the mill not having been completed nor the litigation settled. The $241,000 advanced and to be advanced by the English company will be expended as follows.

To complete mill, $100,000.
To litigation and old mortgage bonds already paid for, $60,000.
Expenses of placing the company in London, $40,000.

Unredeemed bonds, $50,000. There are also outstanding debts against the company which will bring it up to $252,000.

Then if the litigation now in progress goes against the company, Sutherland will have to pay $11,000 deficit. He therefore claims that he need not, in accordance with the original contract, pay a dollar until the litigation is settled, and then if there is any surplus it will be divided equally between Ellis, Doran and himself.

CALLED TO COLORADO.

In his answer the defendant denies that he was about to leave the State with the intention of remaining away, and files voluminous telegrams and letters to show that he had contemplated going to Graymount, Colorado, and New York in response to a telegram from there relative to mining matters.

He also states that prior to making preparations to go to Colorado and New York he had decided to go to London and that instead of concealing this fact from Doran he asked Doran to go with him and the two secured passage, by telegraph, on an ocean steamer bound for Liverpool.

TELEGRAPHIC CORRESPONDENCE.

The following is the telegraphic

correspondence between Ellis and Sutherland:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 14.
A. C. ELLIS, Carson, Nevada.—Out of kindness to yourself discontinue suit. Contracts will not sustain one allegation. My answer will disclose contracts we are bound to protect. Nominate some attorney for you in New York to examine contracts. Will submit any matter in dispute to arbitration; which will be better for you than litigation. Your suit will encourage Bettens and in no wise assist you. Answer.

W. J. SUTHERLAND.—To which he received the following reply:

CARSON, June 15.
COL. W. J. SUTHERLAND.—Contract 12th of March only one I recognize. Any other hitherto suppressed, wholly immaterial. Will sell or settle fairly. Must decline New York arbitration.

A. C. ELLIS.

AFFIDAVITS IN THE CASE.

The following affidavits are on file in the Court room:

One by Dwight Crittenton, to the effect that defendant stated that he intended to start for London, but was suddenly called to Graymount and New York on business, and expressed himself as intending to come back to Nevada.

One by J. E. Gignaux, to the effect that it would cost $20,000 to complete the mill.

One by Henry T. Scott, Vice-President of Union Iron Works, that the mill cost $80,000, and that the changes in the specifications and additions would cost $20,000 extra. That Col. Sutherland had interests in New Mexico and California, and that he could not leave the United States permanently without great financial loss.

THE CONTRACT, VOUCHERS, ETC.

Ellis in his complaint, asserts that Col. Sutherland refused to show him the contract with the Candelaria Water Company or the vouchers. In his answer the defendant swears that he gave Doran a telegram to C. P. Crosby, an attorney in New York, requesting him to turn over the contract and vouchers to Ellis and Doran for their inspection. Col. Ellis stated yesterday to an APPEAL reporter that the stock mentioned in Sutherland's answer, had been delivered to the plaintiffs. To-morrow the case comes up for a hearing, and Senator Stewart, for the defendant, will move for a dismissal of the case on the showing made by the affidavits. Doran is in town and closeted with Mr. Ellis. Quite a number of men from San Francisco are here interested in the suit.

Hardware Notes.

The old Reliable hardware man, E. B. Rail, still has confidence in the country from the way goods are arriving by every train. It keeps Chas. E. Bray's trucks and wagons busy hauling them away from the depot. Just arrived:

40 Buckeye mowers,
5 Buckeye reapers,
10 Champion reapers,
2 Champion binders,
5 Benicia mowers,
35 Horse rakes,
350 doz. Buckeye sections,
27 doz. Hay forks.
2 Bain wagons,
2 Bain header gears,
1 Buckboard,
2 Carts,
2 Crates crockery,
10 Cases hardware,
2 Barrels machine oil,
20 Cases castor oil,
10 Barrels glassware.

Just received a large assortment of fancy gilt and bronzed table lamps with duplex burners; fancy shades and globes; an assortment of John Maddox & Sons' semi-porcelain dishes; also China and fancy glass ware; feather and turkey dusters; campers' tents and outfits; barbed wire, plows, harrows, paints, oils, brushes, brooms, guns, pistols, powder, shot, and in fact anything that you may call for he has; and any goods he has named can be had at very low figures for cash. Any man who keeps such a stock of goods deserves the patronage of everyone. Call and get prices before purchasing elsewhere.
